

WEATHER EMERGENCY GUIDE 2

Under most circumstances, conditions leading to a weather emergency are predictable. In those instances when it is necessary to alter operations or take precautions in response to weather conditions, notification for all those affected will be in the following ways:

- National weather service warnings/announcements
- Information from Airport Operations from social network sites like Twitter
- Visual messaging boards
- Local media outlets